William Wayne, Jr., brother of the flames.
When Miss Wayne attended Miss Margaretta Drexel, a Philadelphia girl, as bridesmaid at hee wedding to Viscount Maidstone, in Westminster, England, June S. 1910, Mr. Ridgway's prospective bride was described in one of the London journals as "the purest type of American beauty ever seen in London."
Mr. Ridgway is one of the most prominent baccelors of Philadelphia Racquet, Merion Uricket, Philadelphia Country and St. Anthony Clubs.
Hisbride-to-be is a great-great-great-grandaughter ef General Anthony Wayne, of Revolutionary fame. Her father, William Wayne, a former member of the State House of Representatives, who belongs to some of the most exclusive clubs in Philadelphia still resides on the historic Wayne estate.

For a year of more Miss Wayne has ade her home with her brother, Wil liam Wayne."

Now the affigators in the most described reaches of the Nile of the Ganges are not so sophisticated, and the sound of the human voice rouses expectations of a possible meal, and moreover, being it. Appeals the most property of the land, leave the water in clumay pursuit. It was the practice of the "mighty hunter" I have referred to to pay a small boy a handsome gratuity—a very liberal one, in the child's estimation—to sit on the bank, chattering and singing while the hunter, gun in hand, stood close by on watch, No sooner would a reptile leave the water and begin to waddle up the bank than the deadly rifle would bark, and the marksman would have another crocodile "bagged." The "bait" meanwhile would be regarding the affair as a hoge delightful Joke. Not until the matter was fully explained could the hunter relieve himself of the charge of infanticide. So, on the whole, it is always better to withhold one's verifict until fully informed of the merits of a case. (Conyright, 1912, by the Brentwood several trips to the polar regions with different explorers, was eighty-five years old. He was the man who stood by Dr. Cook when he was discredited by the rest of the world, and endeavored at the time to organize an expedition to recover the lost "proofs" of his allengen discovery of the North Pole.

Captain Osbon was a Civil War veteran, and claimed to have been the man who sent the famous dispatch from Fort Sumter to the State Department, which has always been credited to Major Anderson. After the Civil War, Major Osbon became an admiral in the Mexican navy, and later commander in the Argentina and Venezuelan navies.
